

A table consisting of two rows and eight columns. All cells are empty, providing a structured area for data entry or calculations.

